Frosts Landscape Construction to be Headline Partner at London Green City Conference and Dinner

The International Association of Horticultural Producers (AIPH) is pleased to announce that Frosts Landscape Construction Ltd is to be the Headline Partner for the AIPH International Green City Conference and Dinner taking place in London on 1st April 2014.

AIPH Secretary General, Tim Briercliffe commented: “This event will make a statement to the world about the importance the UK attaches to greening the urban landscape. I am delighted that we have partnered with a business that works to bring urban landscapes to reality in such a high quality way”.

Managing Director of Frosts Landscape Construction Ltd., Kenneth White commented: “It gives us great pleasure to support this important international event. We wholeheartedly believe in the principles being promoted at the conference. Our business is based on the same principles and we are pleased to have the opportunity to spread these messages even further”.

Commenting on the programme for the conference Briercliffe continued: “We really have a great line up of UK and international speakers and we have this week also confirmed that the Mayor of London’s Environment Advisor, Matthew Pencharz, will be addressing delegates too. It demonstrates the importance of the event that the Greater London Authority has provided such a key policy advisor to represent it”.

London prides itself on its green landscape and urban greening ambitions. Matthew Pencharz advises the Mayor of London on environmental issues and as part of his senior team is influential and instrumental in making things happen. Matthew will outline the importance of London’s landscape and the plans for it.

The conference, with the theme ‘Growing green and healthy places’ is aimed at planners, local authorities, health authorities, the construction industry, landscape architects, green space experts, landscapers and the horticultural industry.

The pre-conference Green City tour on 31st March is now sold out. Places are still available for the conference, at One Great George Street, Westminster, as well as for the dinner that follows on board HMS Belfast. Guests at the dinner will enjoy an inspirational talk from landscape designer Dan Pearson on the plans for the proposed London Garden Bridge.
