AIPH APPROVED EXPO NEWS IN BRIEF

First visit to Izmir 2026 Expo site

Last month, AIPH visited the Izmir 2026 Expo site. It was the first visit of an AIPH delegation to Izmir and the inspectors were impressed by the city's culture and history. The Expo project is led by the Mayor of Izmir and has the theme 'Living in Harmony'. Here is a quick glance at the ceremony of signing of the Expo contract by Mayor of Izmir Tunç Soyer and AIPH President Bernard Oosterom.

AIPH has received a new application from Udon Thani, Thailand. The Ministry of Agriculture and Cooperatives offer to AIPH a Thailand application to host the International Horticultural Exhibition (Category B) in Udon Thani province during 1 November 2026 - 14 March 2027 as the name "Udon Thani International Horticultural Expo 2026" under the theme "Diversity of Life - People, Water, and Plants". The official presentation will be given at the International Expo Conference in Dubai on 7 March.

C INTERNATIONAL HORTICULTURAL EXPO NEWS

Euroflora 2022 supports the flower industry.

Euroflora finally returns, one year overdue, to the Parks and Museums of Nervi in Genoa, from 23 April to 8 May 2022. The flower show will follow the innovative formula that combines the extraordinary botanical gardens and renowned art collections of Nervi with top quality plant and flower nurseries and wonderfully creative landscape artists and floral designers. More than ever, the AIPH-approved C Expo Euroflora aims to support the flower industry. The event can rely on the cooperation of important partners, including the Italian Ministry of Agricultural and Forestry Policies, the Ministry for Ecological Transition, the ICE Agency for foreign trade - bringing in buyers from various international markets -, Italy's Associazione Nazionale Vivaisti Esportatori (National Association of Nurserymen Exporters), and Associazione Florovivaisti Italiani (the Italian association of floriculturists and nurserymen). The Expo Organisers will present at the Expo Conference.
